

Luke D. Savoie
President, Aviation Services Sector

Luke D. Savoie is president for the Aviation Services Sector of L3Harris Technologies. Aviation Services is a leading flight operations and technology integrator to U.S. and international militaries for airborne surveillance, electronic warfare and strike platforms.

Savoie assumed the position of president in 2019 and reports directly to the president of the Integrated Mission Systems Segment.

Previously, he served as president of L3's Surveillance & Strike Systems Sector. He joined L3 in 2015 as the Vice President and General Manager of L3 ForceX following L3's acquisition of ForceX Inc. Savoie also held the role of Director of Foreign Military Sales at Sierra Nevada Corporation, overseeing multiple aircraft production lines, including the A-29.

Savoie was an instructor pilot in the U.S. Air Force. He has over eight years of Air Force Special Operations Command experience as an AC-130U gunship Aircraft Commander and as an Instructor Pilot for U-28As. He was the Chief of Research and Development (R&D) for the 319th Special Operations Squadron and created the first ever operational R&D program at the tactical unit level. He has served in many combat deployments in the Global War on Terrorism and holds fourteen Air Medals and the Bronze Star.

Savoie graduated from the United States Air Force Academy in 1999 with a Bachelor of Science in General Sciences, emphasis on computer science, and a minor in philosophy. He earned his Executive Master of Business Administration from the Johns Hopkins Carey Business School in 2015.
